

Movado Herald Square - 2013.

This concept strikes a balance between traditional architectural materials and new methods of merchandising. The design introduces interactive touch screens and a timeline of display boxes built into a graphic wall for showcasing important watches and collections. The architecture is finished with high-gloss black-painted millwork, a white acrylic logo, white leather display cases and accents in polished stainless steel.

